Suffolk County Legislature Presiding Officer William J. Lindsay participated in the 2012 Bayport-Blue Point Chamber of Commerce's Saint Patrick's Day Parade. Legislator Lindsay was the parade's Grand Marshal in 2008.

This year's Grand Marshals were Flo and Alden Olsson who have been married for almost sixty years. Flo taught for twenty-five years at Greene Avenue Elementary School in Sayville and Academy Street Elementary School in Bayport, and she currently works at the Bayport-Blue Point Library. Alden worked in Advertising for thirty years before going into business with his brother-in-law at the legendary Shand's Market.

Flo and Alden have been actively involved with the Bayport Methodist Church, the Bayport Heritage Association and the Sayville Yacht Club, and they have served on the Suffolk County Historical Society Board of Directors. Flo and Alden have previously been the recipients of the Suffolk County News Inspiration Award and the Toby Beebe recognition award.

"I want to thank my fellow Grand Marshals Flo and Alden for all their years of service to the Bayport-Blue Point communities and to Suffolk County," said Presiding Officer Lindsay.
